

Awards & Recognition // 2025 Collection

Why Awards?

In today's competitive landscape, employee recognition is key to attracting and retaining top talent. A well-executed recognition program shows employees that their efforts truly matter, leading to higher motivation, engagement, and productivity. With over 10,000 awards in our collection, we offers the perfect solution for every occasion, helping you honor achievements in a meaningful and lasting way. Our awards go beyond bragging rights—they are cherished keepsakes that celebrate success and inspire excellence for years to come. Recognize with the world's #1 Award supplier, SRG.

Employee Retention Depends on Getting Recognition Right

45% Lower Voluntary Turnover Rate

Organizations risk losing top talent and facing costly disruptions, but employees who feel well-recognized are far less likely to leave, reducing turnover and ensuring stability.

5x More Engagement

Employees who strongly agree that they get valuable feedback about their performance from the people they work with are five times as likely to be engaged.

20% Higher Sales

Companies with highly engaged employees experience 20% higher sales than those with low engagement, and recognition programs drive that engagement, creating a domino effect that boosts overall performance and sales.

17% More Employee Productivity

Implementing a recognition awards program boosts employee morale and engagement, leading to a proven 17% increase in productivity.
