Variable Data Printing (VDP) is a process in which elements such as images, text, barcoding, or a combination of them all, change from one printed piece to the next. VDP is a digital imprint and may be applied to most products listed or shown as full color.

Data Formatting:

A simple Excel or Notepad Sheet with the variable information listed is required. Variable information should be spelled correctly and contain no duplicates.

Content:

Any photos must meet our standard specs of 300 DPI or higher at actual size. Images should be named the same as the database file (Excel Sheet) part it links to. Example: Person's photo name should be the same as the name listed in the Excel Sheet.

Consecutive Numbering

Please specify size and beginning number when placing an order. Colored numbering available on many items throughout the catalog, look for this logo.

Consecutive Barcoding

Please specify size, beginning number, and font when placing order. Consecutive barcoding is offered with any item that has the consecutive numbering logo on the page.
